Weather Indications.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—For Kansas Forecast until 8 p. m. Saturday. Generally fair; southerly winds.

POND CREEK and Round Pond will probably never pool their issues.

The report that the Knights of Labor are going to boycott the breweries is rather a frothy story.

The man who robbed a Missouri drug store when Kansas is an adjoining state shows his utter inexperience.

"GEN." ARTZ will "pull out" of Kansas City. It is better to pull out of Kansas City than to be "pulled in."

ENGLAND, France, Germany and Spain are opposed to any other countries except themselves engaging in war.

You can't make a man who is supporting a family on $4 a week believe that times are good under Democratic rule.

MEXICO has a big boodle scandal including fifty treasury employes and can now take its place among first-class nations.

If Artz's army is getting plenty to eat it is better off doubtless than many men who are working and ought to be well satisfied.

ONLY in cultured and refined New York could the police levy $10,000,000 in blackmail. It isn't good form you know to take part in municipal politics.

LABOR leaders have no better success in agreeing among themselves than with employers; so it is possible that all the headstrongness doesn't belong to one side.

MYRON REED's resignation has been accepted by the First Congregational church at Denver, and there is a position open for someone who will say only pleasant things.

SOUTHERN people have become tired of burning colored men and have gone to skinning them alive. It is a wonder the southern people don't ask for a tariff to protect the industry.

THE Omaha police board has decided that the police force is no place for religion. The New York police force would indicate that it afforded a fine field for evangelists.

A SUIT has just been filed against Mrs. Jessie Benton Fremont to restrain her from collecting money from congress. The widows of great men appear to be having a hard time this year.

HEREAFTER the officer in the Russian army who refuses to accept a challenge to duel will be dismissed. The Russian government deems it its especial duty to choke every move toward civilization.

In following administrations it will be considered the duty of the vice president of the United States to make addresses at the laying of corner stones and the unveiling of monuments. Adlai has established the precedent.

If Judge Payne had had hold of the Frendergast case in the first place, sympathizing friends might have been putting flowers on the assassin's grave by this time, and if such could be, there would be no trouble to find people to furnish the flowers.

THE Populists are at last well organized where the movement would naturally have been expected to start in the first place. If there is any place on earth that the farmers have reason to complain it is in the barren, rocky hills of New Hampshire.

THE strikes in Colorado mines indicate a condition of things that will have a tendency to discourage capital from further investment in that state.—Dodge City Globe-Republican.

We can't see that Colorado is any worse off than a lot of eastern states. In this particular the west stands fully as well as the east. Doesn't the Dodge City editor think "the condition of things will have a tendency to discourage capital" in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Missouri? At no time has the rioting been half as bad in Colorado as it has in Pennsylvania. Stand up for the west as against the rowdy east.

LEAVENWORTH Times: While the Republican state convention showed lack of courage both in its platform and in its nominations the Populists are showing courage throughout. They elected Dunsmore, speaker of their bogus house of representatives, to preside over the convention, and Ben Rich, chief clerk of that rump house, to act as secretary. Thus they have assumed responsibility for that house and given their endorsement to the actions of the state administration in attempting to force the legal house from Representative hall. They have shown courage, too, in endorsing woman suffrage, in which the great majority of the delegates believe. A majority of the delegates of the Republican convention also believe, or professed to believe in the reform but they were afraid of the loss of votes and they were afraid of the loss of votes and they were afraid of the loss of votes...

H. C. SOLOMON, who has been nominated by the Populists in the First congressional district against Broderick, is a recent convert to Populism. In his speech in response to nomination he said in substance:

It was the first Populist convention he had had the honor to attend. He had been content with his adored Democratic party until two years ago, when he became convinced it was traitorous to its promises. He would not follow a party led by a man who deceived the people and deprived them of their rights...

ATTORNEY GENERAL OLNEY has taken no action on the appeal of Judge Dundy for troops to protect Union Pacific property. The railroad is no longer a private corporation and of course Mr. Olney can't be expected to bother with government affairs.

READY FOR FIREWORKS.

The Democratic Party Preparing for a Great Blowout Convention Day.

One hundred or more members of the Kansas Democratic Flambeau club were present at the regular meeting last evening.

Lugene Hagan was present to arrange final details with the club in regard to fireworks display and parade to be given on July 8 on account of the Democratic state convention.

After the regular drill a competitive drill took place.

Mr. M. Heery, Mr. W. J. McGarry and Captain Nelson acted as judges. First prize was awarded to set of four composed of J. J. Curran, Thos. Foy, J. Stevenson and A. Vogel. Second prize was given to J. J. O'Connor, T. C. Adams, E. J. Early and John Murphy.

Twenty-five dollars in prizes will be offered for another competitive drill before July 8.

The meeting was the most enthusiastic and satisfactory one that has been held since the celebration of Washington's birthday.

THEY ARE PROMOTED.

Members of the Kansas National Guard Who Are Advanced.

Adjutant General Davis of the Kansas National Guard, has announced the following promotions:

Capt. E. Scott Morrison of Co. H, third regiment at Clay Center, to the office of major. Robt. A. Keener, the first lieutenant, was appointed captain and Sergeant Homer Spence was given Keener's place. George Gorow, a sergeant, was appointed second lieutenant.

In Battery B at Wichita, Second Lieutenant George D. Downing was made first lieutenant, and Samuel Mountain sergeant in Co. A, second infantry was promoted to second lieutenant.

Robert Atkinson, Jr., of the Ottawa University cadets, has been appointed on major general's staff and detailed as assistant adjutant general with the rank of major.

AN ALL AROUND BAD MAN

Enters the Home of Postoffice Inspector and Makes a Disturbance.

Ed Moore is the name of a colored man who used to live in Topeka and let his wife, Sarah Moore, support him. She very sensibly left him and Moore went to Missouri.

Last evening at 8:30 Moore entered the home of Postoffice Inspector William Cochran at 1030 Fillmore street and approaching Sarah Moore, who is employed there, ordered her to set down the child she held in her arms.

"What is the matter? What do you want with me?" she cried.

"I am going to spoil your pretty face," he replied with an oath, and immediately proceeded to rain blows upon her head and body, inflicting many bruises and tearing her dress in several places.

Her cries were at first taken by all who heard them to be made by the children at play, but very soon it became evident that something was wrong and before many minutes a crowd had gathered about the house. Mrs. Cochran entered the room and Moore made a motion as if to draw a revolver.

Some one cried "Catch that man" and several of the gentlemen standing near were soon chasing him at full speed toward Western avenue.

There was much excitement among the colored people over the affair and Police Commissioner Walting stood guard over the door to keep them from entering the house. At first there was some talk of a lynching but the talk soon subsided.

TOMORROW'S CONTEST.

The Line Plainly Drawn on State Printer-ship.

Major Hudson, the editor of our contemporary, is regarded over the state as a very strong candidate for the office of state printer. The facts seem to make him the "logical" party, candidate if the Republicans win in the representative contests over the state to the extent of controlling a majority on joint ballot in the house and senate.

It is perfectly natural that Major Hudson should desire to carry his own city's representative district, and not be compelled to go before the state with the apology, that owing to local complications, or to some other reason, embarrassing in any event, his own representative is against him.

As stated in these columns some time since, that is the issue—made so by both candidates for state printer. Major Hudson urges his supporters to vote for Welch, and Crane urges his friends to vote for Veale.

Under these circumstances as before stated, the JOURNAL, although a rival newspaper, has preferred between a broad narrow position, to take the broad one and support Mr. Welch and Major Hudson. Mr. Welch has qualifications which would make him a good representative. The principal objection urged against him is that he is aggressive; but we need aggressive representative men in the legislature.

Observe how the country is suffering today from one end to the other because aggressive, progressive and brave men are not in control in congress, with intelligence to understand the country's needs and courage to act. The whole country wants action of some kind.

The Capital, with its great personal interest in the fight, while admitting the equal fitness and ability of Col. Veale, thus frankly this morning states the local situation as follows:

"The people of Shawnee county and the city of Topeka are unquestionably by a large majority in favor of J. K. Hudson for state printer. Every candidate who has announced himself for representative has in recognition of this sentiment been for him. Col. Veale, however, acknowledging the existence of this sentiment has refused to permit such a statement to be made public, which led to the candidacy of Mr. Welch. The editor of the Capital, who, while regretting that this issue should be made so prominent in the selection of a candidate for representative, has believed that his twenty years' service for his party in this city entitles him to an outspoken endorsement of his candidacy for state printer. A great many friends of Major Hudson are intending to vote for Colonel Veale because he has heretofore expressed himself as intending to vote for him for state printer, but in view of the present contest and the change of sentiment in Colonel Veale, the editor of the Capital asks his friends to vote for Mr. R. B. Welch."

The primaries are open tomorrow from 11 to 7 o'clock. The details are published on the seventh page and each Republican has a full opportunity for expressing his sentiments and have his vote count on each and every position to be filled.

ABOUT REPRESENTATIVE.

And the Issue That is Involved in Tomorrow's Primaries.

To the Editor of the State Journal.

Sir—The people of Kansas, not to mention the Republicans of Kansas, owe it to themselves to make Major J. K. Hudson state printer. He has for years been rendering them ungrudging, uncalculating, inestimable service. He has spent his time and money. The assembly at Athens used to open with a curse on any member who should not speak his real convictions. Everybody knows that such a curse would never touch the editor of the Capital. Everybody knows that there probably is not another paper of the size of the Capital outside of Topeka that has been run on as sincere, honest and courageous a plan as the Capital has been. We have forgot what it is to have a great paper run as a personal organ or as an instrument of blackmail.

While the Capital has been courageous and honest, it has not been cranky. It has been fair and unbiassed. Everybody has had a hearing. The paper ought to appreciate this. Party leaders who have not been, as in some states, constantly forced to drop a nickle in the slot, ought to appreciate it. A great paper in these days wields an immense power, and a paper under the control of a sincere and able editor ought to receive the support of everybody to the end that it may be kept so, and that honest and able editors may not find their efforts unappreciated.

Under these circumstances it seems to me that the Republicans of Topeka, whose personal preferences may be for Col. Veale as a candidate for the legislature, ought to consider awhile before they allow those personal preferences wholly to control them in the matter. In these times especially, and, for that matter, at all times, a voter ought to consider the welfare of the people and of the party before his individual preferences or interests, or the individual preferences or interests of his friends.

J. W. GLEED.

M'KEEVER WITHDRAWS.

The Representative Contest Now Between Welch and Veale.

E. D. McKeever, who had developed a large following as a candidate for representative, has withdrawn, putting his reasons in the following card:

"As the state printer in places a large number of my friends in an embarrassing position as long as I am in the field, I desire to announce the withdrawal of my candidacy.

"While I am confident that I should have been, at least, not less than second in the race, I have deemed it proper for the above reason, in the interest of harmony to abandon the field.

"In the withdrawal of my candidacy, I am none the less earnest in my support of Major Hudson for state printer."

FATHER OF PHONOGRAPHY.

The Venerable Isaac Pitman Receives a High Honor From Queen Victoria.

Isaac Pitman, who is called the father of phonetic shorthand, has received what all loyal subjects of her majesty esteem as a paramount honor. He has been knighted by Queen Victoria. It is not often that the queen stoops to bestow a title upon a hardworking plebeian, but the distinction conferred on a man better entitled to honor than Isaac Pitman. His system of phonography—with many improvements by others—is now practiced by the majority of shorthand writers of the English language. There were many authors or teachers of different systems preceding Pitman, but when his was first published in 1837 it was immediately pronounced superior to all others.

ISAAC PITMAN.

Isaac Pitman was born in Trowbridge, Wilts, England, Jan. 4, 1813. He was obliged to leave school at the age of 12 years and entered the counting house of a clothing manufacturer. After six years' service as a clerk he received five months' training in the Normal college of the British and Foreign School society and was in 1831 appointed master of the British school at Barton-on-Umber. He established the British school at Wotton-under-Edge in 1836.

His first treatise on shorthand, "Stenographic Soundhand," appeared in 1837, and he thus became the originator of the spelling reform to which and the propagation of his system of phonetic shorthand he devoted his entire attention after 1843, when the Phonetic society was established. His system of shorthand was renamed in 1840 and entitled "Phonography; or, Writing by Sound," and his "Phonographic Reporters' Companion" appeared in 1846.

Mr. Pitman's "Phonetic Institute" at Bath is really a phonetic printing office and a publishing house for the dispatch of phonetic books to all parts of the world. He edits and prints The Phonetic Journal. Mr. Pitman has issued a little library of about 80 volumes, printed entirely in shorthand, ranging from the Bible to "Russelas." Mr. Pitman has received several medals and other testimonials from America and other parts of the world in recognition of his system of shorthand and of his labors for the reformation of English orthography.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Items of Interest About Topeka People and Visitors in Town.

An informal reception was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Misses Jennie and Cordelia Price, by the following young ladies, Misses Ruth Farnsworth, Ellen Vail, Miss Hambleton, Mame Horton, Laura Douthitt, Margaret Dudley, Mrs. Eugene Wolfe and the Misses Price, who are interested in Christ's hospital, and the ladies who called were given an opportunity of contributing whatever sum they chose, to the fund.

The day was a beautiful one and as the lawn was utilized for the occasion, the weather was of course the chief consideration. Ice tea and lemonade were served from two small tables, at which Mrs. T. E. Pounds, Mrs. Harold Chase, Mrs. H. P. Dillon, Misses Carrie Bartholomew, Rose Horton, Hortense Kelly Myra Williams and Edna Crane presided. Miss Lillian Gemmel sang, and altogether the affair was most enjoyable, and what was still better, the contribution amounted to a considerable sum.

The young ladies expect to give another some time in July, but it will be in the evening instead of the afternoon.
